Well done to our
star of the week!

Jerome has worked really hard to improve his pencil control. He can now write his full name!

Main News

This week in Literacy we have listened to some stories about dinosaurs and thought about what we would need if we were to go looking for dinosaur bones. The children have also thought about the characteristics of 'good' and 'bad' dinosaurs.

In Maths we have talked about 2D shapes and their properties. We introduced sorting hoops to think about sorting into different categories and we also began learning about symmetry. Some of you have a symmetrical picture to complete for home work and others have some shape matching to do at home.

The children have enjoyed playing in the snow outside, but have also learnt valuable lessons about the weather, freezing and melting.

The dental surgery is open. The children have loved acting out their own experiences in there. They have mixed fillings as the dental nurse, used the syringe to give injections as the dentist and made appointments for patients as the receptionist.

Reading books will be changed each Friday. Please continue to read with your child at home.

Have a lovely weekend.
